About THIS HANDBOOK

1. About this Handbook

Every age, after all, must have its own aising and dream of a better, kinder, happier, shared world.

1.1 Introduction to the Cork ETB Active Citizenship Project

This Cork ETB teaching resource aims to make information about voting and active citizenship more accessible to FET students and the general public.

Why?

- Encouraging adults to register to vote in elections and referendums can empower more adults to have their say on important issues affecting everyday life and more
- This resource aligns with the Adult Literacy for Life Strategy (ALL) which seeks to empower people to participate more fully in their lives and communities
- Many adults have lost faith in the system: constructive dialogue on the how and why of civic engagement is vital if more adults are to become engaged
- Disenfranchised citizens are not fully engaging with society

1.2 Aims of the Cork ETB Active Citizenship Project

The Cork ETB Active Citizenship Project aims to:

- Develop a collaborative, interagency, holistic support for those who are disenfranchised through literacy difficulties or lack of education
- Raise critical awareness and understanding about decision-making in the hopes of eliciting greater participation in the democratic process at election times
- Help towards an increase in the numbers registered to vote, an increase in participation in local democratic and community processes and a decrease in political and societal apathy

1.3 Rationale of the handbook

This handbook is designed to:

- Build tutors' confidence and capacity to engage learners in using their voice.
- Make the democratic process more accessible to adults who may have been disenfranchised for a variety of reasons.
- Develop greater awareness of why every vote counts and every person's voice matters.
- Build learners' critical understanding of the democratic process at local, national and European level
- Facilitate adult learners to have their say and take part: it is crucial that adults experiencing social/ economic or educational disadvantage can engage with the democratic process and take empowered, informed decisions.
- Provide tutors with a resource which does not assume high literacy levels and which is suitable for those with literacy difficulties or those learning English as an additional language.

1.4 Handbook design

- Each chapter can be used as a stand-alone module for groups or 1:1 and can be integrated into a variety of classes and contexts. Tutors might like to start with the Use your Voice section to create interest in the democratic process from a general perspective.
- The content can be varied to suit different geographical areas.
- It is not necessary to have any expertise in citizenship, politics or the electoral system in Ireland to use this handbook.
- The aim throughout is to draw on learners' own experiences and knowledge and to build together from that base.
- Links to audio-visual material are generally not included. Tutors can choose material most relevant to their contexts. External websites and resources are suggested for further information.
- If you do put this handbook into practice in any context, please send feedback on this handbook to activecitizenship@corketb.ie

This handbook can be used in conjunction with an online Active Citizenship online programme called Your Voice Counts: www.corketb.ie/fet

Learners can be supported to complete the online programme in class and get a certificate of completion.

1.5 Teaching and learning approach

- The starting point is what adults already know and then build on it
- Use local and learners' own real life materials and experiences to suit your context
- Use participatory and learner-centred activities, discussions and role plays
- Include opportunities to build literacy and digital literacy
- Encourage adults to find out how to get involved
- Empower and inspire adults to take action
- Facilitate finding answers to questions like
  - what is the point? – politicians are all the same!

What is the point? – Politicians are all the same!

1.6 What do tutors need to do?

- Create a welcoming, supportive, respectful, teaching and learning environment with a collaborative learning process.
- Agree Ground Rules for the group (to limit personal issues becoming too dominant or divisive) – ask the group to suggest Ground Rules and see suggested Ground Rules on page 12.
- Use materials which are learner centred, creative, interactive, participatory, most appropriate to your local context.
- Accept that the tutor is not the expert – but knows how to find information.
- Encourage learners to ask questions and explore – words which may sound familiar may not be well understood.
- Use a range of resources and approaches based on your learners' lived experiences.
- A good place to start is to watch the video Active Citizenship/Voter Education Course \(youtube.com\) on YouTube made by the Dublin Adult Learning Centre vote.ie/ - this video can also be shown to learners to encourage them to get started as it includes the voices of learners.

1.7 Agreeing Ground Rules

- Discussing issues like the government, voting and politics can be challenging. Learners might express very different views.
- As a facilitator, it is essential that you agree ground rules with the group before you start.
- Encourage the group to suggest ground rules which might help. Use the suggested ground rules set out on page 12 to check if there are any other rules which might be suitable.
- Keep the ground rules to hand so that you can refer the group back to them from time to time as needed.
- Ensure that you discuss the ground rules with anyone who joins the group after it has started.

1.8 Suggested Ground Rules

- Confidentiality: agree that personal details and disclosures are not discussed outside the group. You can talk about yourself, your learning and the class content.
- Respect difference: you have the right to have different views and ideas as do all the members of the group.
- No interrupting: give each other time to clarify thoughts and speak. Wait until the other is finished before speaking.
- Listen: pay close attention to what each person is actually saying, rather than what you want to hear said.
- Equal time, equal space: take responsibility for how often you speak in the group and for allowing others equal time and space.
- Come to your own decisions/conclusions about what is right and appropriate for you. Do not give advice to others e.g. If I were you I would... You should...
- Speak in the first person: speak directly out of your own experience and use, I feel rather than everybody says or most people feel.
- Responsibility: take responsibility for what you think, do, say and feel in each session. Equally take responsibility for what you do not say in each session.
- Disclosure: only say what you are comfortable with, no matter what others disclose.

From The Personal to the Political

1.9 Methods for building understanding

- Group discussion
- Gathering the knowledge in the room
- Visual aids and video links
- Sight word recognition and concept checking
- Information sheets
- Worksheets/ quizzes/ wordsearches
- Moving debate, role play
- Creative/ visual project
- Critical reading of relevant texts
- Trips to local councils/ Dublin to meet with representatives
- Reflection

1.10 Moving to action

- 1. After working through the Take Action section, tutors could facilitate voter registration/ update of details on the Register of Electors - see checktheregister.ie checktheregister.ie/en-IE/
- 2. After working through the Use your Voice section, tutors could facilitate a group/ personal active citizenship project - practical experience of democratic action.
  - Choose your issue
  - Find out what action you can take
  - Choose the action
  - Decide on the result you hope to get
  - Plan and get ready
  - Put the idea into action
  - Reflect, evaluate and report

2.3 Overview of what it all means

ACTIVITY

- Use photographs (e.g. voting image/ polling station) to start a discussion on what learners already know
- In small groups ask learners to think about words they think of when they hear the word 'government'
- Who, what and where is government in Ireland?
- Make a list of the words
- Key words are explained below

2.4 Note to tutors about terminology

GUIDE TO TUTORS

The terminology about voting, elections etc can be overwhelming for learners.

- Learners may have heard of certain words, but not be sure about their meaning or relevance to their own lives. Definitions and flashcards are provided in this handbook for some of the terminology. Tutors could note down other words which arise in discussion and add them to the list and the flashcards as the need arises.
- You can use the flashcards in this handbook to explore learners' understanding of the terminology. Print and lay out the flashcards on the table and ask members of the group to choose a card which they would like to talk about.
- You can also use the flashcards with literacy or language learners:
  - To aid sight word recognition
  - To work on syllable breakdown and spelling
  - For dictionary work, understanding and memory

2.5 Key Words – Voting

- Election – when people living in a country, city or county choose a person or government by voting.
- Referendum – a vote by Irish citizens on one political question. In Ireland this will usually be for or against a proposed change to the constitution.

- A voter – a person who is entitled to vote and exercises their right to do so. A voter must be over 18 years and be on the Register of Electors.
- Register of Electors – A public list of people who have the right to vote in referendums and elections in Ireland. This list is put together by local authorities (city and county councils).
- Dáil Éireann – the Irish parliament. There must be an election at least every 5 years. The Dáil is one part of the Irish government. The Seanad is the other part and different election rules apply.
- The President – is the head of state in Ireland. There are elections every 7 years. You can be the President for no more than 14 years. The President lives in Áras an Uachtaráin and represents Ireland internationally.

2.8 About local government

GUIDE NOTES FOR TUTORS

- Ireland has 31 local authorities (city or county councils)
- They look after local services including;
  - Housing – they are the main providers of social housing
  - Roads – keeping them in good repair, parking, lighting, cutting trees and hedges, gritting
  - Parks, recreation, libraries and tourism
  - Planning – who can build what and how land is used
  - Protecting the environment – water, drainage, waste, noise, air quality, dog and horse licences
  - Some fire services
  - The register of electors

- Councillors are elected by local people
- The Mayor is elected by the Councillors and represents the Council in public
  - (note - the City of Limerick will move to a directly elected mayor in 2024)
- They make decisions at council meetings
- There is a chief executive who runs the council day to day

2.9 What does your local council do?

ACTIVITIES – Group discussion – what do learners know about local councils?

- Use photos of the Mayor/ City/ County Hall from local paper and/or articles to prompt discussion
- Use photos of local council signs – see pages 26-27 in this handbook.
- Prepare flashcards (words and/or pictures) to show activities which your local council deals with e.g. social housing, roads, drains, parks, playgrounds, libraries, planning, environment, tourism, fire safety, noise control, dog and horse licensing, waste, school crossing, gritting roads, hedge cutting and more. Place the cards down as the group calls them out.
- Go for a walk with your group around your neighbourhood and see how many council signs there are – take photos to discuss with the group.

2.10 What can your local council do for you?

ACTIVITY – Group discussion – what can your local council do for you?

- Use pictures and articles from the local paper/ radio interviews to prompt discussion about issues in the local area
- Discuss ways in which the area could improve
- What good things have been done in the area?
- What problems are there?
- Ask 'If your local councillor came to see the group, what would you ask your local councillor to do?'

2.11 Local elections: Cork County Council

- The council has 55 elected members
- Elections take place every five years
- Local Councillors are elected by the people in the community. They represent the public interest as well as people living within their area.
- There are 10 Local Electoral Areas in County Cork (see map)
- The head of the council is the Mayor

Credit: Cork County Franchise Office www.corkcoco.ie/en/council/how-can-i-vote

2.12 Local elections: Cork County Council map of Local Electoral Areas (LEAs)

ACTIVITY

- Show the map of Local Electoral Areas in County Cork (or your area)
- Let learners look at the map for a few minutes
- Then give the learners the same map with no names shown
- Then see how many areas the learners can name
- Then show the named map again
- Learners can write or copy in the names of the areas
- You can also make a jigsaw of the map for learners to put back together
- For more detailed work on individual addresses, go to the 'How Can I Vote?' section corkcoco.ie/en/council/how-can-i-vote on the Cork County Council website and click on the 'Cork County Polling Scheme' – you can then search for any townland in the County Cork Local Electoral Areas.
- You can also search Check the Register by Eircode, address or townland in the county checktheregister.ie/en-IE/

2.13 Local elections: Cork City Council

- Cork City Council has 31 councillors from 5 Local Electoral Areas (LEAs)
- Elections take place every five years
- Local Councillors are elected by the people in the community. They represent the public interest as well as people living within their area.
- The head of Cork City Council is the Lord Mayor

Credit: Cork City Council New City Boundary and Local Electoral Areas

2.14 Local elections: Cork City Council map of new City boundary and local electoral areas (LEAs)

ACTIVITY

- Show the map of Cork City (this is downloadable from corkcity.ie 'Map of Cork City Council New City Boundary and Local Electoral Areas').
- Find out what learners know about the 'new' Cork City boundaries.
- See if learners can find the general area where they live on the map. This is useful for practising directions (North, South, East and West).
- For further detail, you can work with learners to identify whether their address is located within the new city boundary.
- Use the interactive map on Voting FAQs on corkcity.ie www.corkcity.ie/en/council-services/councillors-and-democracy/voting/voting-boundary-faqs.html

The President signs bills into law, once they have been passed by the Dáil and the Seanad. The role of the president is outlined in the constitution.

2.21 Referendums

- Referendums in Ireland give Irish citizens who are on the Register of Electors the chance to vote on changes to the Irish Constitution.
- Referendums deal with important issues. There have been referendums in the past on divorce, citizenship, termination of pregnancy, marriage, children's rights, the death penalty and European Union treaties.
- The position of women in the home and gender equality are likely to be the next issues for a referendum.

2.22 About you?

ACTIVITY

After discussion of the four layers of democracy (local, national, Presidential and European), tutors can encourage learners to create a personal profile. This gives great practice in writing, spelling and recognising names (see worksheet) and can be used to practise digital skills by finding out the names from the relevant websites.

3.4 Who has the right to vote?

GUIDE FOR TUTORS

The basic form ERF1 (Register to Vote or Update Details) covers residents in Ireland who have an address. There are other forms for people who are homeless (ERF2), in prison, sick or who have a disability etc.

- All residents in Ireland can register – but not everyone can vote in all elections (see below for more information).
- People who have come to live in Ireland from another country can register immediately – this includes all EU and non-EU citizens and asylum seekers.
- There is a general guide below, but tutors can find out all the answers to who can register for what and how on Citizen's Information 'Right to Vote' Section.
- Individual situations can vary and the rights regarding e.g. EU citizens are quite detailed.
- If you have any questions the franchise department in your local council can help. Email addresses for all the franchise officers are on the Check the Register website checktheregister.ie/en-IE/

3.5 What do I do if I want to vote?

- If you want to vote, you MUST be 18 and over on the day of the election
- You MUST be ON the electoral register at least 15 days before an election – you cannot wait until the day of the election
- You MUST be resident in Ireland (with some exceptions)
- Some people can vote in all elections and referendums, but not everyone

- If you don't have a PPSN, you must take it to the gardaí or your local authority for signing
- If you can't get to the garda station or the local authority, your GP has to sign it

Are you already registered?

- If you are already registered, you must be sure your address is correct – go to checktheregister.ie
- If you have moved, you can update your address on form ERF1

Where do I send the form?

- You can take or send the form to your local city or county hall – write 'Electoral Register' and the address of your local authority on the envelope. If you post it, you need to put a stamp on it.

NOTE : YOUR PPSN AND YOUR DATE OF BIRTH WILL NEVER APPEAR ON THE PUBLIC REGISTER

Worksheet 1: Filling in a form – Register of Electors – Guide for Tutors

What you need: Download and print the accessible 'Register to vote or update details' form EFR1 and the accessible 'Register to vote or update details for people who have no address' form EFR2 from Check the Register <https://checktheregister.ie/en-IE/>

Guide for tutors

- Ask learners to bring their PPSN (if they have one) and their address to the class before filling in the form.
- See page 2 of the form for the procedure if the learner does not have a PPSN.
- Ask learners to practice on a copy of the form so that if they make a mistake they can start again.
- Where there are boxes (PPSN, DOB, Phone number) encourage learners to write one digit in each box
- Note the format for date of birth DD/MM/YYYY and practise this with learners
- Learners do not have to put in an email address – the email address is for purely transactional purposes –if an email address is given, it will just be used to confirm that the details have been registered.
- Nationality is important because a person's nationality determines which elections a person can vote in – see page 3 of the form. If the learner's nationality has changed, then a copy of the passport/ naturalisation must be sent in with the form (this cannot be done online).
- If learners are concerned about how the information might be used, the explanation is on page 3 of the form.
- You can access the paper forms from your local authority or you can download and print them. The forms are the same for all local authorities in Ireland.
- It is a good idea to read the forms thoroughly before using them with a group so that you can answer questions which might arise. If you have any further questions, you can contact the Franchise Officer in your local authority.

Worksheet 1: Filling in a form – Register of Electors

- Fill out the Register of Electors form with YOUR details. The form looks like the picture on this page.
- Write all words in CAPITAL LETTERS, but sign your name in the usual way. This is to make the information very clear and easy for a person or a computer to read.
- Here are all the capital letters to remind you.

A B C D E F G H I J K L M N O P Q R S T U V W X Y Z

- For your date of birth and the date of the form, use numbers only. Write one number in each box.
  - 21st May 1982 will be 21/05/1982
- If you do not know your Eircode, ask for help. It is important to know your Eircode.
- Ask for help if you have any questions.

3.9 What happens before an election?

- You will see posters of candidates and you will get leaflets
- Candidates call to peoples' houses to look for votes and listen to what people have to say. This is called canvassing
- Political parties list what they would like to do if they are elected – this is called a manifesto
- Independents are people who want to be elected, but they are not part of any political party
- A polling card will be sent to the address that is on the Register of Electors for you. If you change your address, you need to update the Register with your new address at least 15 days BEFORE an election

3.10 Where can I vote in person?

- You can vote in person at your local polling station
- EVERYONE who has registered their correct address will receive a card in the post
- The polling card will tell you where to go to vote
- Usually it is in a local school or GAA hall near where you live

3.11 What if the polling station might not be accessible to me?

- If you are a wheelchair user or if you have other challenges when voting, you must make your needs known in writing to your local authority - at least a week before polling. Email contacts are on checktheregister.ie

- Explain why you cannot gain access to the local polling station shown on your polling card. Your local authority will help you to choose a suitable alternative station. If possible, you should suggest an alternative polling station which is both accessible and convenient for you.
- You will then receive written authorization enabling you to vote at another polling station in the same constituency, normally the polling station suggested by you.
- You take this authorization with you when you go to vote at that station (remember to bring evidence of identity as well).
- For full details see the Department of Housing, Local Government and Heritage www.gov.ie/en/publication/1b3dc-information-for-voters-with-disabilities/

3.14 What do I need to take to the polling station with me?

- Take your polling card with you. Your polling card will tell you where your polling station is and what time it is open.
- You must bring photo identification with you even if you have a polling card. Your ID must match the name you have put on the register. You can use any ONE of these:

3.15 Where do I vote?

- Polling stations must make available a table and/or chair at which people can vote if that is more convenient
- If you have sight problems or difficulty reading, you can get a companion to help mark the ballot paper. Your companion cannot tell you who to vote for – they can only help you read your ballot and write down your choice
- If you are visually impaired and want to vote by yourself, a tactile ballot paper template is available in each polling station

3.16 What do I put on the ballot paper in an election?

- The names of the candidates will be listed (in alphabetical order) on the ballot paper next to their picture, the name of their party (if they belong to a political party) and their party emblem (in some cases)

- You should not tick or mark the box with an X.
- You fold your ballot paper and put it into the ballot box
- If you make a mistake on your ballot paper, you can ask for another ballot paper. This is at the discretion of the Returning Officer. If you have already posted your ballot in the ballot box, the Returning Officer cannot give you another ballot paper.
- From Citizen's Information and Inclusion Ireland

Take care! spoiled ballot papers cannot be counted

DO NOT	DO
Leave the ballot paper blank	Write the numbers clearly so they can be understood
Use a tick or a cross – you must only use numbers in any election (NOTE: you use an X only in a referendum)	Use the ballot paper you are given by the people in the polling station
Write your name on the ballot paper	Use numbers in order 1,2,3, etc. (do not write the same number next to 2 different candidates)

IF YOU deliberately spoiled your paper as a protest, it will not be counted

3.17 Proportional representation in practice

GUIDE FOR TUTORS

- The names of candidates appear in alphabetical order on the ballot paper, along with their photographs and their party emblem (if they wish).
- You vote by writing 1 opposite your first choice candidate, 2 opposite your second choice, 3 opposite your third choice and so on. You can stop after 1 or you can continue to give a preferential vote to as many candidates on the ballot paper as you wish. You cannot give the same number to more than one candidate.
- When you vote with more than one preference, you are instructing the Returning Officer (the person responsible for the counting of votes) that if your preferred candidate is eliminated, or elected with a surplus of votes, you want your vote to be transferred to your second choice candidate.
- Proportional Representation is used in all elections in Ireland – local, general, European and Presidential elections. See below for video explainers.
- See the Citizen's Information website for more information www.citizensinformation.ie/en/

3.18 How are votes counted in elections?

- When you vote in any election in Ireland, you are asked to give your vote in order of preference. This is because Ireland uses an electoral system called proportional representation with a single transferrable vote (PR-STV, or PR for short).
- This means that EVERY VOTE COUNTS.
- The PR-STV system is very clearly explained on the Citizens Information website www.citizensinformation.ie/en/
- Tutors can use a video explainer for PR-STV. There is a three minute visual explainer using children made by RTÉ: it clearly explains PR-STV
- There is a visual explainer made on See Her Elected www.seeherelected.ie/videos/ how the Proportional Representation Single Transferable Voting system works in Ireland.

3.19 Voting in a referendum

- In a referendum, you do not vote for people, but you vote 'YES' or 'NO' to a change in the constitution
- When you vote in a referendum you do NOT use numbers
  - You put an X in the box by the word 'YES' if you agree with the change
  - You put an X in the box by the word 'NO' if you don't agree with the change
- You vote in a polling booth in a polling station
- A tactile ballot paper template is available in each polling station for people who are visually impaired
- The referendum will only change the constitution if more than half (50%) of the people voting say 'YES'

3.20 Sample referendum ballot paper - activity

An bhfuil tú ag toiliú leis an togra chun an Bunreacht a leasú atá sa Bhille thíosluaite?
Do you approve of the proposal to amend the Constitution contained in the undermentioned Bill

[Details will be here]

ACTIVITY

- Discuss the kind of issues which are voted on in referendums
- Discuss the current issue if there is a referendum soon
- The Electoral Commission has to explain the referendum to everyone in an independent and impartial way. There will be information on TV, radio and other electronic media see www.electoralcommission.ie
- Talk about the layout of a ballot paper for a referendum
- What can you see on the ballot paper?
- How is it different from a ballot paper for an election?
- Use this sample ballot paper to practise putting an X for YES or NO

4.1 Aims and objectives

Aim

- To empower more adults to have their say on important issues affecting everyday life and more

Objectives

- Learners will discuss actual problems and possible solutions
- Learners will discuss and decide on actions that could be taken in relation to local or national issues and reflect upon the reasons why they might take part in the democratic process
- Learners will take part in an active citizenship project by choosing an issue and taking action as a group

4.2 Tutor resources

Useful starting points could be

- Watch the video on Why Vote on vote.ie Dublin Adult Learning Centre.
- These videos give a useful history of how people got the vote in Ireland and elsewhere <https://www.vote.ie/why/history-of-voting-rights.html>
- Watch the video made by She Her Elected (SHE) 'The Streetlamp' on YouTube https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=\_W3DsKnhiag
- See the videos on the Immigrant Council of Ireland website or on YouTube <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FWsytT9tmNs> in English and a number of different languages
- Tutors can ask learners if they are aware of a local issue which is being discussed in the local area which can focus discussion – local newspapers (online or in print) or phone-in shows can provide content for this- see the What Matters Locally activity
- Tutors can use the exit poll from the 2020 general election and subsequent elections to stimulate discussion on what might be important to learners from a national perspective <https://www.rte.ie/news/election-2020/2020/0209/1114111-election-exit-poll/> - see What Matters to You in Ireland Generally activity
- Be aware that any UK or Irish citizen who registers to vote will automatically be on the jury list. Some people do not want to register/ or they apply to de-register, if they do not want to serve on a jury.

4.3 Why vote?

ACTIVITY - Group discussion of reasons why people vote

- Ask learners to reflect for a minute about voting. What images come to mind? What emotions do they feel? Then facilitate a discussion. The following questions might be helpful to guide the discussion.
- Why do people vote?
- Why do people not vote?
- What are the obstacles?
- What could encourage more people to vote?

4.4 Why vote – some answers?

- ✓ It is your RIGHT to vote
- ✓ Voting gives you a say on important issues that affect YOU
- ✓ Voting gives you an opportunity to be part of decision-making that affects your life
- ✓ Voting gives you the choice to vote for your local and national representatives
- ✓ If YOU don't vote, others will make the decisions for YOU!
- ✓ If YOU don't vote, you won't have a say in healthcare, education, housing and local issues
- ✓ IF YOU don't vote then you won't have a say in global issues like defence and the environment
- ✓ If you want better housing, hospitals, childcare, transport links, better local amenities such as parks and playgrounds, then you can use your vote to make a difference – your local and national governments run all these services

4.5 What matters most to you locally? Are you always complaining about something? Talk to your local councillors and vote!

ACTIVITY – Group discussion about local government

- How can you make your neighbourhood better/ more accessible/ more inclusive?
- What green spaces are there?
- What about housing?
- Is there a playground for children near your house?
- Is there a safe place to cross the road near the schools?
- What is the local bus service like?
- Do you have a local library?
- Are the footpaths in good shape?

4.6 What matters most to you in Ireland generally?

ACTIVITY - Group discussion to find out which issues are most important to the members of the group

- Walking debate – use Post-its or pin cards around the room with issues on them e.g. health, jobs, education, climate change and ask the group to go to stand by the one they think is the most important issue nationally - see list of issues on exit poll for 2020 for ideas www.rte.ie/news/election-2020/2020/0209/1114111-election-exit-poll/
- You could do something similar with local issues. You can ask anyone who wants to explain why they have chosen that issue
- Use flashcards with the issues (and blank ones for other issues which arise in the discussion) and put them in order of importance to the group/ individuals in the group
- Show the list of issues on the exit poll for 2020 – does the group agree?

4.7 Reasons why people vote?

4.8 What difference can this make to my life?

ACTIVITY - Group discussion

- Use a local issue to show how voting/ action can make a difference

4.9 Active Citizenship Project Tutor reflection – before you start

GUIDE FOR TUTORS

You may want to do an active citizenship project with your group.

- Issues may arise in discussion which would give the group some ideas about what they feel strongly about. It need not be about political change: something which will increase involvement in the local community will work as well.
- Before starting think about:
  - How do you feel about facilitating an active citizenship project with your learners?
  - What will help you?
  - Where can you go for help if you need it?
  - Where can you go for information if you need it?

4.10 Taking action?

ACTIVITY

A group/ personal active citizenship project - practical experience of democratic action. Ideas for group activity

- Is there a local issue you would like to take action about – see Choosing an Issue for discussion ideas? Has anyone taken action before? Would they like to talk about it?
- Contact local councillors, write letters/ emails and make phone calls
- How to spread the word in your local community
- Go on local radio/ phone in
- Create leaflets
- Talk to your local councillors
- Go to your local TDs' clinics
- Public participation networks

4.12 Other ways to get involved

- Citizens' Assembly citizensassembly.ie
  - This is a group made up of members of the general public, who have been randomly selected and are broadly representative of Irish society
  - They discuss an issue or issues of national importance and make suggestions for change
- Public participation networks (PPN) – these help local authorities connect with:
  - Community voluntary groups like sports clubs, cultural societies, Meals on Wheels or Tidy Towns
  - local organisations formed to protect the environment, like An Taisce or Bird Watch Ireland
  - groups representing people who are socially excluded and whose voices are not heard in our society, such as people with disabilities, migrants or Travellers
  - Check on your local city or council website or various organizations' websites for further information
- See other opportunities for public participation including
  - Climate Action and Biodiversity plans
  - Local development plans
  - New transport plans such as Bus Connect

How Do I

CHOOSE

who to VOTE For

5. How do I choose who to vote for

- 5.1 Aims and objectives ..... 76
- 5.2 Tutor resources ..... 77
- 5.3 How to encourage critical thinking ..... 77
- 5.4 How do I choose who to vote for? ..... 78
- 5.5 Do you agree with their plans? ..... 78
- 5.6 References..... 79

5.1 Aims and objectives

- Aim: to empower learners to think critically about information
- Objective:
  - That learners will know where to find out information and be able to evaluate information more critically
  - That learners will be able to express their own opinions, consider the opinions of others and be open to different perspectives

5.2 Tutor resources

- If there is an election soon, then ask learners to bring in any election leaflets which they get at home and collect any you have yourself. Aim to ensure a balance of representation of the different candidates. Check the Electoral Commission website for up to date information videos www.electoralcommission.ie
- You can use these and other local resources such as local print and electronic media to see the issues being raised locally or nationally. Short videos can be used to stimulate discussion
- For referendums, clear explanations of the issues will be available from the Electoral Commission
- On critical literacy, see National Adult Literacy Agency (NALA) workbooks Facts Matter and Digital Matters for ideas and activities – freely available to download or order www.nala.ie/order-resources/
- See also ideas in the Training the Trainer handbook produced by SAOLTA saolta.com/2023/03/24/training-of-trainers/

5.3 How to encourage critical thinking

GUIDE FOR TUTORS

- Refer back to the ground rules in this handbook and review them with the group
- Use discussion to explore issues and ideas. Facilitate learners to express their opinions confidently but respectfully
- Encourage learners to get information from different places and people
- Encourage them to question their own views on different issues, consider other people's perspectives and to be open to changing their mind and learn from others
- Suggest they ask other people what they think and talk about the issues
- Work towards helping learners to distinguish fact from opinion and to recognise information that they can rely on as opposed to information which might be manipulative or incorrect – see free NALA workbooks Facts Matter and Digital Matters www.nala.ie/order-resources/

5.4 How do I choose who to vote for?

ACTIVITY

- Discuss with the group how they can get information about the election and draw out the following:
  - What do candidates stand for? Some candidates stand for their political party and others are independent.
  - What will candidates do to get votes? Candidates will campaign before an election – they knock on people’s doors and give out leaflets.
  - What can you do to find out more? You can go and talk to the candidates: if you contact them, they will meet with you. You can ask them questions about things that are important to you.
  - Where else can you find information? Candidates will also use social media to let you know why they want you to vote for them. Listen to local and national radio and TV and hear their plans.

5.5 Do you agree with their plans?

ACTIVITY

- Learners can look at the leaflets that come in through the door and the information they see on TV, radio and social media.
- All candidates have their plans in a manifesto.
- This says what they intend to do if people vote for them.
- Learners can look at different leaflets, information sources and manifestos and see if they agree with what they say
- Talk about the things that matter to them with people around them. They may not always agree, but it is good to talk.
- Voting is their way to make a difference to the community or country – to housing, health, education, the environment and more. If they want to have a voice, they must use it.
